

Why the Netherlands?

Often called Holland, especially in Europe, this familiar name actually refers only to two of the country's 12 provinces. The Netherlands is relatively flat, laden with canals and densely populated. The country provides a number of interesting destinations, most noted for their unique history and culture. For example, the Netherlands boasts more museums per square meter than any other country and is known for the Maastricht Treaty, which marked the establishment of the European Union. If you are a fan of artists such as Van Gogh, Vermeer or Rembrandt, visiting the homes of these artists is a must. Another interesting destination is the famous 'St. Pietersburg' caves with its enormous labyrinth of 20,000 passages carved out of the rock face of Mount St. Pieter.

Study at Maastricht University

The educational programs at MU use Problem-Based Learning, which focuses on small groups and informal contacts between students and the academic staff. The combination of this teaching method and an international student population means that you have plenty of opportunities to acquire knowledge and experience from a range of perspectives. All this offers you an international environment in which you study, live and build friendships with other students from a variety of cultures and backgrounds.

Travel Requirements

A passport is required for study abroad and must be valid for at least 180 days beyond the end of the program. Students remaining in the country more than 90 days will also have to apply for a Visa at the consulate or embassy that has jurisdiction over the region in which they live. The Peruvian Consulate issues two types of Visas: 1) multiple-entry visa, which allows entry and departure from Peru many times during the stay, or 2) a single-entry visa, which allows and single entry into Peru and return to the Otterbein is committed to being as transparent as possible with respect to our study abroad financial arrangements. Financial transactions and business dealing are fully disclosed.

◆ Housing & Meals

Campus housing is available on a first come first serve basis. Many international students choose to live in the Guesthouse located in the city. Meals are independent and groceries are available in the city center and also by the Guesthouse. Rooms include a bed, desk, sink, closet, and shelf space. Kitchens, shower facilities, toilets and laundry rooms are shared by students. Cleaning responsibilities are shared. Kitchens come equipped with cooking utensils and cutlery, a stove top and a refrigerator. Each student must bring his/her own towels and bedding.

◆ Academics

Otterbein students on the exchange can take classes at three MU facilities: the School of Business and Economics (SBE); the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FASoS); and the Faculty of Psychology and Neurosciences (FPN). Classes are taught in English by professors either from Maastricht University or from other European universities.

◆ Services

Program services include advising services, airport greeting, on-site orientation, access to 24-hour computer labs, banking and ATM facilities, a fitness center, and credit transfer. Orientation provides an introduction to MU, the campus culture, academic advisors, and the international office staff. Every semester program starts with an orientation program. An official opening ceremony will be held the first day after arrival. A lecture on "Dutch Customs and Manners" will teach you some "survival Dutch." During these days you will also meet with the students of the Erasmus Student Network and they will help you get integrated into Dutch student life. Other activities include a guided city tour of Maastricht and a study trip.

◆ Excursions

Your free time doesn't have to be spent only in Maastricht. There are countless opportunities for enjoying yourself outside the city, as Maastricht is situated at an international crossroads. Cities such as Brussels, Liege, Aachen, Cologne and Dusseldorf are just a short drive away and you have easy access to Amsterdam, Berlin, Paris or London.
